YOU SAID WE DID.....

You Said ... Where is the Adlington Town Council web page?

We are ... In the process of updating our website and hope to launch it shortly in a new format.

Call for Community Photo Contributions

Adlington Town Council is delighted to invite residents to take part in a new community photo initiative for our new Town Council website. We are creating a series of themed online galleries to celebrate the people, places and spirit of Adlington — and we would love your photographs to be part of it.

We are looking for images that capture Adlington through the seasons; local landmarks and hidden gems; community events and celebrations; wildlife and nature; our working town; and the people who make Adlington special. We also welcome historical “then and now” comparisons, photographs taken by young people, beloved local pets, festive moments, sport and leisure activities, and gardens or allotments that showcase local pride.

Whether you are a keen photographer or simply captured a special moment on your phone, your contribution will help build a lasting visual record of our town. Selected photographs will appear on the Town Council website and may also be featured in future council publications and social media, with credit given wherever possible.

To submit your images, please complete the online form available here: <https://bit.ly/ATCPhotoGallery>. Images should be submitted as JPEG files (maximum 5MB each). Please ensure you have permission from anyone identifiable in your photograph.

We look forward to seeing Adlington through your eyes.

You Said ... We are concerned about the planning application for the Anaerobic Digester on Wigan Lane

We had ... An interesting day at County Hall for the planning appeal on the Wigan Lane anaerobic digester. Great contributions from local councillors (including two from Adlington), parish councils and residents and well done to Lancashire County Council for defending the decision so well. We should hear more on the inspector's decision in the coming weeks.
